

Wonder Journal Assignment #3 – Sketching and Photos

We're going to return to our wonder journal sites again, this time with a different lens. Follow the directions below:

Step 1: Grab a smartphone or camera, a notebook, and any other gear you need, then head back to the same place you visited last time, starting with the spot that marks the "center" of your site.

Step 2: Like last time, spend fifteen or twenty minutes exploring your site. Try to uncover something new -- something you missed in previous visits. Jot your findings in your notebook, and make note of anything you might want to photograph or sketch.

Step 3: Spend about 20 minutes taking photographs of your site. As you go, consider what you learned in this module and ask yourself: what story am I telling with each photograph? How can I use perspective, scale, and lighting to highlight my subject? Try to get at least three photos you are excited about.

Step 4: Take 20 to 30 minutes to sketch at your site. Consider what you learned in this module about sketching; your goal is to slow down and notice new things as you sketch. Try to end up with one or two sketches you are excited about.

Step 5: Share one sketch and one photograph on the relevant slide in your online Course Notebook. (Obviously you may have to take a photo of your sketch to share it; that's fine.) Include a caption for each that explains what your subject is and why you chose it.
